FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - YEAR C

30TH JANUARY 2022

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

Save us, O Lord our God!
And gather us from the nations,
to give thanks to your holy name,
and make it our glory to praise you.

FIRST READING

A reading from the prophet Jeremiah

Jer 1: 4 - 5. 17 - 19

In the days of Josiah, the word of the Lord was addressed to me, saying,

'Before I formed you in the womb I knew you;
before you came to birth I consecrated you;
I have appointed you as prophet to the nations.
So now brace yourself for action.
Stand up and tell them
all I command you.
Do not be dismayed at their presence,
or in their presence I will make you dismayed.
I, for my part, today will make you
into a fortified city,
a pillar of iron,
and a wall of bronze
to confront all this land:
the kings of Judah, its princes,
its priests and the country people.
They will fight against you
but shall not overcome you,
for I am with you to deliver you - it is the Lord who speaks.'

This is the word of the Lord

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps 70

Response: I will sing of your salvation.

1. In you, O Lord, I take refuge;
let me never be put to shame.
In your justice rescue me, free me:
pay heed to me and save me. (R.)
2. Be a rock where I can take refuge,
a mighty stronghold to save me;
for you are my rock, my stronghold.
Free me from the hand of the wicked. (R.)
3. It is you, O Lord, who are my hope,
my trust, O Lord, since my youth.
On you I have leaned from my birth,
from my mother's womb you have been my help. (R.)
4. My lips will tell of your justice and day by day of your help.
O God, you have taught me from my youth
and I proclaim your wonders still. (R.)

SECOND READING

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

1 Cor 12: 31 - 13:13

Be ambitious for the higher gifts. And I am going to show you a way that is better than any of them.

If I have all the eloquence of men or of angels, but speak without love, I am simply a gong booming or a cymbal clashing. If I have the gift of prophecy, understanding all the mysteries there are, and knowing everything, and if I have faith in all its fullness, to move mountains, but without love, then I am nothing at all. If I give away all that I possess, piece by piece, and if I even let them take my body to burn it, but am without love, it will do me no good whatever. Love is always patient and kind; it is never jealous; love is never boastful or conceited; it is never rude or selfish; it does not take offence, and is not resentful. Love takes no pleasure in other people's sins but delights in the truth; it is always ready to excuse, to trust, to hope, and to endure whatever comes.

Love does not come to an end. But if there are gifts of prophecy, the time will come when they must fail; or the gift of languages, it will not continue for ever; and knowledge - for this, too, the time will come when it must fail. For our knowledge is imperfect and our prophesying is imperfect; but once perfection comes, all imperfect things will disappear. When I was a child, I used to talk like a child, and think like a child, and argue like a child, but now I am a man, all childish ways are put behind me. Now we are seeing a dim reflection in a mirror; but then we shall be seeing face to face. The knowledge that I have now is imperfect; but then I shall know as fully as I am known.

In short, there are three things that last: faith, hope and love; and the greatest of these is love.

This is the word of the Lord

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!
The Lord sent me to bring Good News to the poor and freedom to prisoners.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL

A reading from the holy Gospel according to St Luke

Lk 4: 21 - 30

Jesus began to speak in the synagogue, 'This text is being fulfilled today even as you listen.' And he won the approval of all, and they were astonished by the gracious words that came from his lips. They said, 'This is Joseph's son, surely?' But he replied, 'No doubt you will quote me the saying, "Physician, heal yourself" and tell me, "We have heard all that happened in Capernaum, do the same here in your own countryside."' And he went on, 'I tell you solemnly, no prophet is ever accepted in his own country.'

'There were many widows in Israel, I can assure you, in Elijah's day, when heaven remained shut for three years and six months and a great famine raged throughout the land, but Elijah was not sent to any one of these: he was sent to a widow at Zarephath, a Sidonian town. And in the prophet Elisha's time there were many lepers in Israel, but none of these was cured, except the Syrian, Naaman.' When they heard this everyone in the synagogue was enraged. They sprang to their feet and hustled him out of the town; and they took him up to the brow of the hill their town was built on, intending to throw him down the cliff, but he slipped through the crowd and walked away.

COMMENTARY

God-given Identity

Nazara was a village of 300-400 people and it had a small town mentality. The inhabitants were enraged when Jesus found good precedent for extending his saving mission to foreigners outside the community of the Chosen People. Jesus embodied the boundary-breaking nature of God's grace.

Many Christians recite the old formula: 'No salvation outside the Church.' But we Catholics believe that, by responding to God's (often anonymous) grace, a person can lead a good life which prepares them for heavenly glory.

This means that the billions around the world who will never hear the Gospel, or who hear it distorted through the megaphone of an alien culture, can be saved. There is no limit/boundary to the Merciful God's finding a way into the hearts of all human beings.

We could take a moment to pray in gratitude for our graced privilege of being members of the Church, nourished within it by the Sacraments and the Gospel, but whose boundaries can never circumscribe the mercy of God.

A prayer in this challenging time...

May we who are merely Inconvenienced remember those whose lives are at stake.

May we who have no risk factors
remember those most vulnerable.

May we who have the luxury of working from home remember those who must choose between preserving their health or making their rent.

May we who have the flexibility to care for our children when their schools close remember those who have no options.

May we who have to cancel our Trips remember those that have no safe place to go.

May we who are losing our margin money in the tumult of the economic market remember those who have no margin at all.

As fear grips our country,
let us choose love.

During this time when we cannot physically wrap our arms around each other, let us yet find ways to be the loving embrace of God to our neighbors.

Amen.

The Importance of Gratitude

Giving thanks to God is a central part of Catholic life. It is impressed upon us by almost every book in the bible, is incorporated into every mass we attend, and in general, it is something that we intrinsically know to be right and unfathomably important. However, gratitude is not just a one-sided way for us to show devotion to God – it also strengthens us and benefits us in ways we probably never even consider.

For one gratitude allows us to see God's presence in the world around us. When we begin to acknowledge the good things we receive (even the small and mundane things) it becomes much easier to recognise God personal touch in all aspects of our lives.
Conversely, it also helps us understand our place amongst creation. By acknowledging what we have been given, especially when we may be going through hard times, it becomes that much easier to really connect with God and to feel at peace, knowing that he is by our side always, and that his love and generosity know no limits.

The act of giving thanks also gives us a road straight to God. By simply praising God, we are not only spiritually communing with him - we are also showing that we know what we have received and why. As the bible has shown us many times, obedience and love go a long way to endearing us further with God. For example, in Luke 17:11-19, Jesus heals ten leppers but only one returns to thank him and as such, Jesus recognises the faith of this former lepper. Like the one, we can use gratitude as a path to God – an acknowledgement that all we have was given through him, and that it is all due to a mutual devotion.

Gratitude also allows us to focus on what we have, rather than what we lack. Without it, we would be bitter and resentful, and this is not how we were made to live. Such emotions lead to envy, and envy often leads to sin.

While gratitude is easy to give, this doesn't mean it is invaluable.
In fact, it is one of the clearest demonstrations of love and acknowledgement, and it is one of the few things God asks from us.
